The Forum collection offers a diverse selection of harmonising hand-moulded bricks, allowing you to create a seamless look by blending similar tones. These sanded, lightly grained stones result in a uniform facade. Alongside the consistent stones, the series includes bricks with nuanced colour shades, imparting a trendy and quirky character to your facade.

A lust for the eye

With their distinctive irregular shape, Forum bricks effortlessly adapt to any facade design, offering simplicity and balance. The variety of shades within the extensive palette can be seamlessly combined, resulting in a captivating interplay of colors tailored to your desired architectural style.

Eco, comic or tradition

Whether it's new construction or renovation, Forum is a perfect fit for any project. In addition to the traditional formats, Forum offers a slimmer variant: the Eco-brick, which is up to 3.5 cm slimmer than the classic brick. This provides extra room for insulation or additional living space along the entire perimeter of the house. Additionally, Forum bricks are also available as brick slips, offering versatile options for various architectural needs.
